

Mt Lawn adds Enduro race to 2018 schedule

Mt Lawn Speedway has announced an additional race to the 2018 racing schedule. The added race will be a 1 hour enduro race featuring Factory Stock FWD compacts taking place on Sunday afternoon Sept 9th. Entries will be limited to 120 cars and if that many cars enter the winner will collect $5000. An enduro race has no yellow flags during the event. The race will be green or red flag only. The first 45 entries received will be given a reserved pit stall on the concrete and car numbers will be assigned as entries are received. Complete rules and entry form are posted on the Mt Lawn website.

The enduro cars are almost identical to the factory stock FWD car currently competing at Mt Lawn. Technical inspectors Mike Stone and Bill Noel stated, "These cars should be very easy to get ready to go racing. All that is required is all glass must be removed from the car and all flammable material with the exception of the front seat and dash must be remove from the car. It is a very cost effective way for anyone 18 and over to try their hand at racing as well as a chance to win $5000."

For those wishing to gain some track experience the enduro cars will be allowed to compete in the remaining Factory Stock FWD races in 2018 at Mt Lawn.
